The Alliance to Save Energy promotes energy efficiency worldwide to achieve a healthier economy, a cleaner environment and greater energy security. To achieve this mission, the Alliance:

- Leads worldwide energy efficiency initiatives in policy advocacy, research, education, technology deployment and communications that impact all sectors of the economy.
- Provides vision and activism which includes active and engaged members of Congress, leaders from business, the public interest sector and academia.
- Initiates and participates in public-private partnerships, collaborate efforts and strategic alliances to optimize resources and expand its sphere of influence.
- Executes its mission through a team of recognized energy efficiency experts and professionals.

The purpose of this trip is to learn about policies and best practices that are helping to drive advances in energy productivity across the country. Our hope is that through visits to sites identified on the itinerary and through meetings with local and state officials that the Congressional staff members will be able to learn about state and business activities and, in turn, use that new knowledge to develop, refine and advance policies at the federal level.

The Alliance has previously sponsored several Congressional field trips.

The Alliance hosts a range of educational activities.

- Congressional Briefings
 - We host Congressional briefings throughout the year, which typically focus on a particular aspect related to energy efficiency.
 - December 7, 2017: The Business Case for Tax Incentives Promoting Energy Efficiency
 - November 16, 2017: Beyond Batteries: Grid-Interactive Efficient Buildings
 - October 26, 2017: Developing the 21st Century Energy Efficiency Workforce
 - March 16, 2017: Beyond Roads & Bridges: The Role of Energy Efficiency Policy in Infrastructure Investments
- Energy Efficiency Global Forum
 - An annual event convened in Washington, DC that brings together executives and policymakers from around the world and across sectors to discuss energy efficiency. In 2017, this exclusive forum explored how utilities, regulators, legislators and companies are incorporating cost-effective energy efficiency measures into their business to help meet increasing demand. The next EE Global Forum is scheduled for May of 2018 in Copenhagen, Denmark.
- Accelerate Energy Productivity 2030
 - A partnership between the U.S. Department of Energy, Alliance to Save Energy and Council on Competitiveness to catalyze action in the public and private sectors to help achieve the goal of doubling our nation's energy productivity.
 - As part of this initiative, three webinars were held in April to provide an in-depth look at several unique aspects of energy efficiency:
 - April 13, 2016: Building Technologies and Finance
 - April 20, 2016: Smart Grid and Smart Manufacturing
 - April 27, 2016: Transportation and Water
- Energy 2030 Events
 - Energy 2030 On the Road – These are education, outreach and action campaigns aimed at urging communities through the nation to adopt the goal of doubling U.S. energy productivity. They are held around the country and in 2015 included stops in Seattle, WA, Raleigh, NC and Minneapolis, MN. They follow the same format of other events where panelists discuss a specific theme of energy efficiency and are widely attended by members of local governments, academia, local and state government and the surrounding community.

- Policy Perspectives Breakfasts
 - Breakfast sessions where we invite a representative from a Federal agency or Congressional office (Senator/Congressman) to come and speak about priorities or updates regarding energy efficiency for the respective agency or office. There are plans for several of these events in 2018, including in Washington, DC and around the country.

There are several reasons why we have chosen Los Angeles, California as the destination for this trip.

- The American Council for an Energy-Efficiency Economy (ACEEE) produces the annual State Energy Efficiency Scorecard, which ranks states based on energy efficiency policies and practices. California has consistently ranked in the top 2 - it is #2 in 2017 after being tied for #1 in 2016 – and has always been at the forefront of progressive energy efficiency policy. California has a long history of adopting energy efficiency policy and was the first state to do so in many instances, including building energy codes and appliance/equipment standards. In addition, the state requires or incentivizes energy efficiency throughout many sectors like schools, commercial buildings, state-owned buildings and residential buildings. California also has enabled property assessed clean energy (PACE) financing to help encourage home and business owners to invest in energy efficiency. In addition to the state ranking, ACEEE also ranks a selection of major cities on the same criteria and Los Angeles, CA was ranked #4 in 2017. Therefore, Los Angeles, CA is an excellent option for such a trip because we can incorporate strong local level actions along with the broader state-level actions.
- The Alliance to Save Energy is also hosting a public briefing at the La Kretz Innovation Campus on Friday, February 23, 2018. The title of the event is entitled, “California: Leading the Future.” A full agenda is included below (as it currently stands).
- The Los Angeles area boasts a wide range of field examples and opportunities to learn about energy efficiency, including:
 - Meritage Home Builders
 - Meritage Homes is a real-estate development company that constructs single-family detached homes in states throughout the country. It separates itself from its competitors by placing a significant emphasis on energy efficiency and offers clients many energy efficiency options to allow them to customize the home to fit their specific needs. Meritage Homes was recognized as an ENERGY STAR Partner of the Year in Sustained Excellence for 2017 and has earned this distinction every year since 2013.
 - Lutron Experience Center
 - Lutron is a lighting control and sensor company that is best known for mass marketing the classic lighting dimmer that can be seen in many homes and businesses. It is also the only company that integrates lighting controls and motorized window shades with daylighting systems to control both electric light and natural sunlight. These technologies can lead to large energy efficiency gains that, if integrated correctly, can significantly reduce lighting-associated energy costs. The Lutron Experience Center allows visitors to see these applications in a real-world setting.

- Port of Long Beach
 - The Port of Long Beach is one of the world's busiest seaports with significant economic benefits to the region and the entire country. Due to its size, the Port of Long Beach has a high energy demand and is working to address it through rebate programs to incentivize tenants to become more energy-efficient, investing in renewable energy technologies and energy storage, and incorporating advanced energy management technologies to manage energy demand.
- SloanLED – Microsoft/LA Live Theater
 - SloanLED is a producer of high-quality lighting products, particularly in LED lighting technology, with applications for exterior signage, canopies, shelves and refrigerated displays, among others. Not only do these products offer improved performance, they also offer significant energy savings potential. One of SloanLED's partners is the Microsoft/LA Live Theater that we intend to visit to see this technology at a client site.
- La Kretz Innovation Campus
 - The La Kretz Innovation Campus was founded in 2011 to serve as the Los Angeles area's cleantech industry hub – a place where entrepreneurs, engineers, scientists and policymakers can collaborate, promote and support the development of clean technologies and LA's green economy. It also features an Energy Efficiency and Technology laboratory in connection with the Los Angeles Department of Water and Power.
- Southern California Edison
 - Southern California Edison (SCE) is one of the nation's largest electric utilities and, in line with the culture of California, is heavily invested in energy efficiency and clean energy. SCE is dedicated to being as efficient as possible within its own operations and offers many rebates on a variety of products to help home and business owners be more efficient too. Due to the statewide energy targets for energy efficiency and renewable energy, SCE is taking an innovative approach to incorporating new energy technologies into the grid to ensure affordability, reliability and resiliency.

Dear Mallory:

The Alliance to Save Energy invites you to join us on a fact-finding trip to Los Angeles, California to learn about policies and best practices that are helping to drive advances in energy productivity across the country. As currently planned, this trip will include several visits in the Greater Los Angeles area and is scheduled for Thursday and Friday, February 22 – February 23, 2018. We have invited staff members from both sides of the aisle and from both Chambers to participate, to ensure well-rounded and robust discussions.

Over the course of the trip, we will visit a leading LED company, a global lighting control and sensor company, one of the nation's largest electric utilities, a research and innovation facility, a leading builder of residential homes and one of the busiest ports in the world.

This fact-finding mission is an excellent opportunity for Congressional staff to learn about state activities and businesses' progress to improve their energy productivity. The exchange can be used to develop, refine and advance policies at the federal, state and local levels.

Thank you in advance for your consideration. We expect a significant level of interest in this trip and, with limited capacity, we encourage you to respond at your earliest convenience as we will be accepting participants on a first-come, first-served basis. To meet the requirements set by the Ethics Committee, we will finalize the agenda and attendee list by January 12th. If you would like to join us, or have any questions regarding the trip, please feel free to get in touch with Reed Brown, the Alliance's Senior Associate for Government Affairs, at rbrown@ase.org or (202) 530-2241.

Best,

Kateri Callahan
